Most people these days only have cordless phones that would be useless during a power outage but technicians should still ask if you have a basic phone that will work during a power outage and install the UPS if you do. Call Telus and ask them to come out and install a UPS as you have a basic phone and need it to function during power outages.

Every time I try to log on to my Thunderbird account, I receive the message: "Connection to server "pop-server.rochester.rr " timed out." If I go directly to the roadrunner site: "mail.twc " and put in my email address and password, I can log in. So it seems that the problem lies with "Thunderbird" itself.
