Energy Policies Panama is a Central American country with an ever-expanding electrical grid. The current installed capacity of around 3386 MW as of 2017 with the majority of this capacity coming from hydroelectric dams [].The current energy policies in place are working to help set a plan for long-term energy development and to reach these goals by 2050 [].

Considering that a fire in an energy storage system burns very quickly, Delta has designed its energy storage systems with a multi-level safety mechanism as a thermal barrier. Future designs will require safety monitoring and management of battery cells and modules, protection and backup operation of cabinets and the entire system, and ...
