Is there a planet map based on a Python program?

An updated scale of the solar system map made with a python program I wrote. The old one was missing moons and dwarf planets, so I added them after the onslaught of comments wondering where Pluto was. Create an account or sign in to comment. Wow this looks amazing thank you. Join Planet Minecraft!

How many planets are there in the Solar System?

Every planet contains a crust and core, some have a thin outer layer and others have molten mantles and two stage cores. The cores and crust material vary from planet to planet but as a general rule of thumb is the larger the planet the more valuable the materials it holds. The Sol system, contains eight planets and six moons.
